

Dawson Armstrong 2015 Dogwood Champion

Date Released: Saturday, July 4, 2015

ATLANTA – July 4, 2015 – The final round of The Dogwood Invitational concluded today with a win for Dawson Armstrong, a rising sophomore at Lipscomb University in Nashville.

Clinching the title with a birdie on 18, Armstrong began the final round one stroke ahead of the field and finished two strokes ahead at 16-under-par for the week.

Dawson expressed “This was a great experience for me, 5 days ago I was not thinking I would be standing here as Champion of The Dogwood Invitational – and here I am!”

Following a solid performance including an eagle on hole 7, Ashton Van Horne was battling for the top spot but found himself first runner up due to a double bogey at 16.

Tying for second runner up, South Africa’s Number One Junior Golfer, Paul Boshoff had a strong finish bringing him into contention, and Brad Dalke’s consistent play throughout the week kept him on the leaderboard with 13-under-par.
